and brilliant gewgaws, deftly hung,
that catch the eye of old and young. With fairies bright and tinted birds I call forth glad enraptured words; and merry eyes will greet the sight when I am viewed by candle-light. Beneath my boughs there lies a scene of house and yard and village green; with mimic railways running through, as railroads oft are wont to do. I am alas, a Christmas tree! And this will be the death for me; for when the Yuletide season's past, upon the ash-heap I'll be cast. However, while I'm standing here a host of children I will cheer, and cause their youthful cheeks to glow, because of One Child long ago who came this waiting world to bless and fill our hearts with happiness. And so you see I'm glad to be

Clerk. Chairman.

One hundred years from now the people will be talking of the great events of the year 1915. History has no time which has been fraught with such importance to the nations of the world and to the human race in general.

“Quit fighting. No indemnities to be paid, no territory to be ceded and the status in quo ante bellum to be restored.

"The war is not a war in defense of liberty or national or individual right. It is a horrible, brutal, useless massacre of human beings for no good purpose, and it is safe to say that one soldier in one hundred in each army knows what he is fighting about. "Better QUIT."
